COURSE CODE: HIS 221

Objective: This paper seeks to examine the major political developments in the Indian subcontinent during a span of nearly five centuries i.e. from the thirteenth to the seventeenth century. It aims at an in-depth analysis of the processes of state formation in the Delhi Sultanate and Mughal Empire. It lays emphasis on (1) the long-term strategies that enabled these two states to establish political control and (2) to explore the functioning of political institutions and the articulation of political ideologies. It pays equal attention to the changing composition of the ruling class as well as the response of the powerful local elements.

Pedagogy: In the teaching of this paper, effort is made to gradually build on the foundation of knowledge laid at the undergraduate level. Discussions on various sub-themes need to be interspersed with critical references to the contemporary sources as well as divergent historiographical approaches.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

PAPER II OPT. (II) AGRARIAN ECONOMY OF MEDIEVAL INDIA

COURSE CODE: HIS 712

Objective: This paper aims at a multi-dimensional picture of the historical changes that occurred in the agrarian economy during the medieval period. For the sake of clarity and convenience, it is divided into two chronological phases, the Delhi Sultanate and Mughal Empire. It seeks to make an in-depth analysis of the social structure, with particular reference to the various classes of peasantry as well as the intermediaries. It pays adequate attention to the technological aspects of agriculture and irrigation, besides the land rights and agrarian revolts. It also examines the mechanism evolved by the state to extract the social surplus.

Pedagogy: Since it is assumed that the student is quite familiar with the political history of medieval India, it is possible to delve into advanced writings of historians like Irfan Habib and Satish Chandra. Changes in the agrarian economy are studied in relation to the social structure and state formation, with stress on interpreting evidence from contemporary documentation.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

PAPER -II OPT. (II) FEUDAL SOCIETY IN WESTERN EUROPE

COURSE CODE: HIS 421

Objectives: This paper is essentially devoted to the social history of medieval western Europe. It traces the transformation of the slave-owning society into the feudal society, besides exploring the institution of vassalage, with reference to the fief and manor. These structural changes are examined in the context of improvements in agricultural and industrial production, besides the expansion of trade and urbanization. This paper aims at understanding the methods of historical analysis that were developed by Marc Bloch, Henri Pirenne and Parry Anderson. It also enables us to sharpen our understanding of parallel developments in medieval India, as it opens the avenues of comparative analysis.

Pedagogy: The teacher is required to exercise considerable patience and diligence, so as to clarify key concepts like modes of production, kinship ties, vassalage, fief and manor. Equal attention is paid to material aspects of human life like agriculture, industry and trade. The study of historical maps, particularly relating to trade routes and urban centres, promises to benefit the young learners.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

- (i) There will be 9 questions in all. The candidate will be required to attempt 5 questions.
- (ii) Question No.1 will be compulsory and carry 20 marks. It will consist of 15 short questions from the list of concepts and terms.given below. The candidate is required to attempt any 10 short questions in 25-30 words each.. Each short question carries 2 marks.
- (iii) Remaining part of the question paper will be divided into four units, corresponding to the four units of the syllabus for each option. The paper setter will set 2 essay type questions from each unit. The candidate will attempt 4 essay type questions, selecting one from each unit. Each essay type question will carry 15 marks.

PAPERS III & IV: OPT. (IV) ISLAMIC TRADITIONS OF MEDIEVAL INDIA

COURSE CODE: HIS 426

Objectives: This paper places the Islamic traditions of medieval India in the larger context of the rise of Islam inWest Asia. Apart from the theological and mystical dimensions of Islam in medieval India, it highlights the emergence of the popular syncretic culture that grew around the major sufi shrines. It also seeks to study the process of Islamization in two regions viz. Punjab and Bengal. This paper assumes significance in the light of the crisis that seems to afflict the Islamic societies in different parts of the world, besides serving as an intellectual response to the growing misunderstanding regarding Islam and its historical role.

Pedagogy: The teaching of this paper is based on the pioneer works of stalwarts like Khaliq Ahmad Nizami and Saiyid Athar Abbas Rizvi. In a large measure, it relies on the contributions of Richard M. Eaton that have fundamentally changed our understanding of the subject. While discarding monolithic explanations and unscientific stereotypes, this paper opens the mind to a complex and multi-layered past.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

The maximum marks in this paper/option will be 80 and duration of written examination will be 3 hours...

PAPERS III & IV OPT. (V) DALIT MOVEMENTS IN MODERN INDIA

COURSE CODE: HIS 471

Objective: The paper accounts for and interprets the phenomena of caste in India as a stratified social hierarchy prevalent from ancient times. Academic debates on the evolvement of caste, and the concept of jati and varna, reaction to Brahmanical strategies as arbiters of moral order and the rise of Bhakti saints, give an understanding on the emergence of the Dalit identity in the Indian context. The paper also discusses caste and gender and the movement for social justice, political participation and autonomy for dalits. Recent political parties have generated a new consciousness of equality in society among the dalits.

Pedagogy: Method would include lectures, discussions, review, seminars, powerpoint presentations.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:
